GERMAN-AMERICAN VOLKSFEST AND JULY 4th CELEBRATION

Commissaries Hold Vacuum-Packed Meat Demos

The Stuttgart military community commissaries will soon be selling vacuum packaged meats, going on sale at Patch, Robinson, Panzer and Kelley stores July 1. This process of sucking air from the clear plastic wrapping was introduced in the 1960s to package turkeys. Some of the advantages of vacuum-packed meats include longer shelf life, easier to freeze at home with repacking not necessary, reduced chance of freezer burn and bacteria contamination and elimination of Styrofoam meat trays.

To catch a live demonstration of the vacuum-packing process, stop by Patch July 1 from 4-6 p.m. or July 2 from 4 to 6 p.m.; Panzer July 2 from noon to 2 p.m.; Robinson July 3 from noon to 2 p.m.; and Kelley July 3 from 4 to 6 p.m. For more info call your commissary.

Frankfurt Airport Warning

At least five sexual assaults and one rape in the parking garage of the Frankfurt International Airport were reported in the last three weeks. U.S. law enforcement officials encourage people to use the buddy system when traveling to the airport. The area of concern is the parking garage at Terminal A.

The following tips are provided. Always have your keys out and ready before leaving a building to approach your car. Look around and in your car before entering. If your vehicle has tinted windows, use the reflection to scan the area to either side and behind you. Lock your car door immediately after entering the vehicle. Check your surroundings before getting out of your car. If you are involved in an accident, stay in your car until police arrive. Consider acquiring a cellular phone. And if you are accosted in a parking garage, away from your own vehicle, consider rolling underneath a nearby auto – it is difficult to force anyone out from under a car.

If you are sexually assaulted, be sure to report it to U.S. or German police. The first four assaults in the airport parking garage were not reported. Reporting acts of violence can make a difference for the next victim.

Lodging Availability

If you need lodging reservations while in the Stuttgart area for yourself, or if you are the sponsor for someone, you must first contact the Swabian Inn or the Hilltop Hotel. If lodging at both facilities is unavailable, then a statement of non-availability can be issued. The statement can only be issued by the Swabian Inn or Hilltop Hotel. This can all be accomplished by phone.

A statement of non-availability is needed to make arrangements for accommodations off-base and reimbursement. For more info call Robert Korb, 0711-680-7181.
